Dear Friends,

June, 2011

I am writing to you this year to ask you to help send a Scout to camp. Your donation each year allows our scouts to enjoy a week or two at Strang Scout Reservation- now celebrating its fiftieth year of providing scouts with a quality Scouting program that is fun and memorable. If all you did was send in a check and help a scout go to camp you have accomplished something today, however, your donation does so much more.

The young man that you sent to camp last year finished the merit badges he needed for Eagle and was able to put on his college application that he was an Eagle Scout. The rank made the difference in his life between his dream school and his safety. Thanks to you.

The young man you sent to camp five years ago is now twenty. He has served our nation as a soldier and has been posted to some of the most difficult spots in the world. His commanding officer sees a real leadership in this soldier. Thanks to you.

The young man you sent to camp ten years ago has started a family with his wife. He has a good job and is ready to step up to the plate and be a good husband and father. He is involved in his community both by his job and his volunteer work. Thanks to you.

The young man you sent to camp fifteen years ago is mulling his next move in life. He lost his long time job due to the economy, but plugs along working service industry jobs as he looks for a position in his career. He never loses his sense of purpose and is overjoyed when a position is available. He will do well in life. Thanks to you.

The young man you sent to camp twenty years ago is right now pulling out his checkbook and sending us a check to send another scout to camp. Thanks to you.

The young man you sent to camp thirty years ago worries whether there will be enough leaders to bring the scouts to camp this summer. There will be because he has learned to be very persuasive. Thanks to you.

These compilations of scouts over the years tell us that our donation to the campership fund touches the future. You know the secret of scouting: the actual purpose of our organization is to teach leadership skills. Our scouts grow up to be great men who serve their families, communities, and nation in so many different ways. Our boys from Troop 3 will become the men of the next generations who will fashion a society and a nation from skills they learned and honed at Strang Scout Reservation. Oh and they have a wonderful time too!

Please join me in giving to the Troop 3 Campership Fund we are able to send every boy from our troop to camp no matter what their economic situation may be. Thanks to you!

Sincerely,

Rev. Christopher M. Tiano
Campership Chairman

A week of summer camp costs $325. Any amount you can provide will help enable every Troop 3 Scout to attend summer camp. Please "Do Your Best" to send your support by July 3rd using the enclosed return envelope.
